HONGRONG, DECEMBER 10TH 1884.

WE have reason to believe that it is reall intended to desputch vessels from Woosung to raise the blockade of Formosa and if possible retake Kelung. It is, however, im probable that anything like a large fleet such as has been spoken of in the Shanghai papers, will start on the expedition. W shall indeed be surprised if, at any rate for the present, more than the Chro Yung and the Yang Wei make the attempt. That these two, however, will start and that very shortly, is as certain as anything can be. We believe that "Admiral" SEBELIA has announced his intention to prove that fast cruisors can beat big ironclads, and that he may not be hampered in his attempt has stipulated that he may put in irons any Chinese naval officers on board who show any signs of frustrating his plans. The two cruisers were built by Armstrong and are quite new. They are fitted with twin-screws, steam 16 knots steadily, and are armed with 25-ton breach-loading gans at bow and stern, besides four Armstrong breach-loading 49-pounders. There are three German officers on board each boat, a German doctor on the Chao Yung (the flagship) Scotch and American engineers, and one or two gunners who have been picked up Shanghai and go into action on a thousand taels a month. The hope of the Chinese is that these craft, with their speed, the long range of their guns, the swiftness with which they can be manouvred, and the smallness of the mark they offer, besides their light fortunately for the country it has very few draught, will be able at any rate to hold officers of this description. their own against the strongest of the French ships and may possibly sink one or more of them. The crew are picked men, drill and fire } well; and there is no doubt about the power of the guns. It is therefore just possible that the Chinese may bring off their coup. drum:- "What British possession ought to Should they do so one good thing will come of it. the performers. The programme commenced with a kind of variety entertainment, in which the most successful feature was a sailor's horapipe danced by one of the mariomettes in the dress of a blue jacket. The steps, were executed most correctly, in a very lifelike way, and the audience were so pleased with it that it had to be repeated. There were other dances which were done remarkably well and one figure was intensely simusing; he threw off one limb after another. and each became transformed on reaching the floor into another marionetto; his head next went, and then his trunk suddenly changed into grotesque figure. The drop curtain descended. and in a few moments it rose again with the stage set out for a regular Christy Minstrel entertainment. Half a dozen performers won
